Hello everyone out there in numismaland. Ok, so I take a few liberties with the English language, but, we do have a specialized hobby that demands a specialized vocabulary!

I always wonder what to talk about in this communication. First this has been an interesting year to say the least. Everyone in the Pacific Northwest was involved in the National Money Show™ held last March in Portland. I for one had a great time in the doing and in visiting old friends and meeting new ones. Our connection with the ANA has never been better or more important, more about that later.

Secondly, American numismatics in general seems to be doing quite well. I say seems as there is a little Federal legislation that has been passed that could change that in a way we would never have thought possible. That legislation is called: Emergency Protection for Iraqi Antiquities Act. It was instigated and supported by the following archaeological organizations including:

- The Archaeological Institute of America
- The American Academic Research Institute in Iraq (TAARII) (formerly American Association for Research in Baghdad),
- The American Schools of Oriental Research
- The Society for American Archaeology
- The American Anthropological Association
- The College Art Association

While this all seems innocent enough the opposite is true. It was designed to address the looting of Iraqi museums immediately following the "end of hostilities" in Iraq. As we now know, in fact most of the items that were taken were recovered or not even stolen but hidden away for protection.

The archaeological community in fact was using this as a pretext to initiate an out and out ban on anyone who has a cultural item over 100 years old in their possession. They say they are the only ones qualified to handle and study such items and you as a collector are not.

What you say, "I only collect US coins and tokens, and this only affects ancient coins." The grim truth is that they want to ban all collecting of cultural items over 100 years old. If you collect US Coins, Hard Times or Civil War tokens, currency, artifacts (Civil War bullets, etc.) you can be affected. In fact they went after a major auction in London and forced the withdrawal of a stamp collection with items over 100 years old. At this point it is too late to stop it as the legislation was signed by President Bush, interestingly enough on December 7, 2004.

There is a grass roots organization formed specifically to fight further inroads into our freedom to collect coins. That group is called The Ancient Coin Collectors Guild. The ACCG is for ALL collectors of numismatic history. It doesn't matter what you collect you can and will be affected by this type of legislation unless we support their efforts. I urge all members of the PNNA to support the ACCG. I urge you to take a look at the ACCG (the URL is <http://accg.us/>) and give them your support. We don't need another Pearl Harbor style attack by the archeological community to wake us up. The first shot has been fired and the fleet is in big trouble.

Getting back to the ANA; POVA or the Portland Oregon Visitors Association has requested that the ANA consider returning to Portland, Oregon in 2009 or 2010. A joint task force has been formed by the PNNA and the Willamette Coin Club to pursue a bid for that contingency.

This would be a partnership by both organizations to bring the ANA back to the Pacific Northwest as soon as we can. Portland is a great venue and fits within the financial guidelines of the ANA from the standpoint of the cost of the facilities. Seattle has been and continues to be too expensive a venue for the ANA. I will keep everyone informed on the progress of this venture as we have the resources and talent to put on another great ANA event.

I guess that about sums it up from me for now. I would like to take this opportunity to wish all of you the best Holiday Season and a fantastic 2005. See you at the 2005 PNNA Convention!

Bob Everett Memorial Award

It's time for the committee to select a recipient for the Bob Everett award, to be announced (and hopefully presented, if the awardee is present) at the 2005 convention. The recipient need not be a PNNA member; s/he need only be someone who has promoted numismatics in the Pacific Northwest during 2004. Please send your nominations (name and achievements that merit receipt of this award) to one of the committee members: Larry Rowe, Jim Paine, Eric Holcomb, Del Cushing and Dick Billings.

Next PNNA Board Meeting

The next meeting of the PNNA board will be at the Boeing Employees' Coin Club annual show, Saturday 15 January 2005, at closing time (shortly after 5:00 PM) at the registration table. (See the calendar for show location in Kent, Washington.)

Exhibits at the ANA 2005 Spring Convention

The ANA early spring convention (National Money Show™) in 2005 will be in Kansas City. The dates are 8-10 April (Friday-Sunday). If you are interested in exhibiting there, write to ANA headquarters (attention Barbara Olson) and request the exhibit rules and application. The case limit for spring shows is completely different from summer shows (normally up to fifteen cases if you show only one exhibit, but due to space restrictions, the case limit is nine cases for Kansas City), which provides an opportunity to show the large exhibit you have always had in the back of your mind. APPLICATION DEADLINE IS 14 MARCH.

Exhibits at the 2005 ANA Anniversary Convention

If you want to exhibit at the ANA anniversary convention (World's Fair of Money®) in San Jose in July, ask ANA for an exhibit application now (see the information above about how to apply). THE APPLICATION DEADLINE IS 31 MAY 2005.

Exhibits at the 2005 PNNA Convention

Exhibits must be in place by noon on Saturday 30 April to be eligible for awards, which will be announced at 4:00 PM. We would prefer to have your exhibits in place on Friday, so that visitors to the convention can view and learn from them. If you want to use PNNA cases, you must send an application to Larry Rowe by 18 April so that those cases can be available.

Use the form enclosed to apply for exhibit space and exhibit cases (send to Larry Rowe, PO Box 61621, Vancouver, WA 98666; phone 360-573-9827; email medalman@pacifier.com). Remember that the PNNA best of show winner receives $200 in assistance to take the winning exhibit to the ANA anniversary convention in the same year.

The complete exhibit application is four pages long, just like ANA's. Pages 2-4 are only needed if you intend to have someone else place or remove your exhibit or if you are a multiple winner of first place awards at previous PNNA conventions. If you think you need the last three pages (not included here to save postage), ask for a complete copy of the rules from the secretary at the address in the letterhead. There are several references to specific parts of the rules in the PNNA application; if you have a copy of the ANA rules, you can determine what those references are without having the PNNA rules in hand.

Following are the exhibit classes used by the PNNA:

Competitive exhibits

Best-of-Show — Byron F. Johnson, Jr. Memorial

Best exhibit of tokens or medals — C. E. "Hepp" Heppner Memorial

Classified exhibit awards

Class 1 - United States and Canadian coins

Class 2 - United States and Canadian paper money

Class 3 - Tokens, medals, and decorations

Class 4 - World coins and paper money

Class 5 - General or specialized

Class 6 - Pacific Northwest numismatic material

Non-competitive exhibits

No specific awards

PUYALLUP 2004 LOST AND FOUND

A nice jacket was left at the PNNA table at Puyallup in September. While it may have been lost by a visitor, I suspect it belongs to one of the volunteers who worked that fortnight. It is a light blue Patagonia hooded jacket with violet zipper pulls. It has a zipper and velcro front closure, and zippers almost the length of each sleeve for ventilation. If this jacket belongs to a reader, contact Joe Boling to reclaim it. More likely, it belongs to a club member who is not a PNNA member (thus, not reading this Nor'wester), so please publicize this in your club meetings so we can return this nice jacket to its owner.

2005 DUES ARE DUE

PNNA dues are assessed annually in January. Please send your dues to the secretary, Joe Boling, using the envelope enclosed. Individual dues are $10; family groups and clubs are $15. Individual life membership is $200 (there is no club or family life membership category). If you believe you are already paid for 2005, check the mailing label on this issue of The Nor'wester. Members not paid by convention time will not receive The Nor'wester after that date.

Online renewals via PayPal (www.paypal.com) are accepted at e-mail address pnnasec@aol.com. See the PNNA website at <http://www.pnna.org/applic.html>

PNNA 2005 National Coin Week Competition

National Coin Week in 2005 will be 17-23 April. The theme has not yet been announced by ANA headquarters, but it is not too early to start planning your club's participation. PNNA makes awards of $100, $75, and $50 to the clubs with the three best national coin week programs each year. In some years, not enough clubs have participated to be able to make three awards. This is pretty easy money, folks — if your club is perpetually short of funds, consider this opportunity to earn some.

PNNA Offers Scholarships for 2005 Summer Seminar in Colorado Springs

The PNNA is again offering adult and junior scholarships to attend the ANA 2005 Summer Seminar in Colorado Springs. See the attached scholarship application for more information and a seminar course list. Don't pass up this opportunity! Anyone can apply, and we would like to get more than the five or six apps that we received last year!!

PNNA 2005 Token Design – Order Now

The PNNA is pleased to once again offer custom designed and struck “tokens” for its annual convention scheduled for Tukwila, Washington, April 29-30 and May 1, 2005. The design type is a Roman siliqua with legends that reflect the show information and dates.

The following token sets are only available on a pre-order basis:

- Four-token set (gold, silver, copper and pewter) for $75.00,
- Three-token set (silver, copper and pewter) for $15.00.

Both versions are housed in Airtite holders and collector boxes. Pewter strikes will be given to collectors attending the show (while supplies last). Set orders should be directed to Scott Loos at the address below. Shipping and insurance will be $3.00 for the three token sets and $4.00 for the four token sets – no charge if the sets will be picked up at the convention. Sets will be available for delivery shortly before the convention.

PNNA Convention Update by Scott Loos

The bourse sold out immediately following the September 1 deadline for returning dealer applications. Anyone wanting a table is encouraged to contact me (see above) to be put on the waiting list for either the 2005 or 2006 conventions. In the area of speakers – Arthur and Prue Fitts have accepted our invitation to speak in the Numismatic Theater. Art is a current ANA Governor and is an accomplished speaker in many areas, including medieval English coinage. Prue is also an excellent speaker and will either talk on an Ancient/Byzantine topic or Women in Power. Prue is President of both the Dedicated Byzantine Collectors and WIN (Women in Numismatics). Actual topics for their presentations will be available for the next issue of The Nor'wester. Furthermore, Dr. Walt Ostromecki has accepted our invitation to come back and run the YN Treasure Hunt and youth program. All-in-all, we have a great mix of dealers, coming from the local, regional and national levels ... and we will have a nice core group of ancient/medieval/foreign dealers in addition to the usual mix of U.S. coin and paper.

The striking of ancient coins

by Joseph Kleinman

Most of us who collect modern coins have an understanding of the modern minting process. Additionally, some of us may also be knowledgeable regarding the work of the coin die engraver. For instance, most of us know that modern coin blanks are punched out from sheets of metal that were produced at a mill. We also know that the dies are cut by machinery using digital technology. Things were quite different in ancient times.

In ancient times none of the techniques or technology existed that would or could be used to produce the exquisite results that they nevertheless achieved. How did they do it?

Beginning with the flan or planchet, we know that they were manufactured by a casting process. Molten metal was poured into a mold and then broken out after cooling. This process didn't always produce flans of equal size and weight. That is just one of the reasons why any two ancient coins of the same issue are never exactly alike. The coin dies were cut by hand individually. A bow drill was most likely used to produce a reverse image on a bronze die that was work-hardened. Remember that the die engraver didn't have the benefit of strong acids, high magnification or even an adequate source of available light. The actual process of striking the coin is illustrated on this Roman Republican Silver Denarius of the mint official T. CARISIVS, a senator responsible for the operation of the mint in 46 BC when this coin was struck. The aforementioned flan was heated in an annealing oven and when the desired temperature was reached the flan was removed from the oven (with the tongs shown) and placed on the anvil holding the reverse die. The obverse die (shown above the anvil) was struck with the hammer (shown to the right of the anvil). The obverse die is in the shape of the cap worn by Vulcan, the Roman god of the forge.

The coin features the bust of Juno Moneta (from where we get the word money). The Mint of Rome was located adjacent to the temple of Juno Moneta on the Arx summit of the Capitoline Hill.

What do you have to say?

Articles such as the series contributed by Joseph Kleinman on ancient coinage give you, as a PNNA member, the opportunity to share your knowledge and collecting expertise with the rest of us!

PNNA President Larry Gaye has promised that he will also begin a series of articles on ancient coin collecting, and possibly Byzantine coinage! Before it begins to appear that our members are only interested in the pre-1500 world, please consider writing something short about what you collect, even if it's very modern numismatic material.

Please contact editor Eric Holcomb (ph. 253-850-2996, e-mail Eric@Holcomb.com) for information about how to submit your material, or see the PNNA web site at <http://www.pnna.org/submit.html>.

The PNNA does not currently have a literary award, but may consider starting such an award, and in any event you would increase your chances of being awarded a scholarship to attend ANA Summer Seminar (see page 3 and the attached application).

PNNA qualifies for IRS non-profit status

The PNNA recently qualified as an IRS 501c(3) non-profit educational association. The status is retroactive to 18 June 1965, the date of the PNNA's incorporation in Oregon. Contributions to the PNNA are now tax deductible. Please contact the treasurer for more information.

Also, this is even more reason to write an educational article for publication!

Deadline for submission of material for 2nd Quarter 2005 Nor'wester: March 15, 2005.

Please send ad copy to Eric Holcomb (e-mail Eric@Holcomb.com), and payment to the PNNA secretary/treasurer. Call Eric (253-850-2996) for more info.

American Numismatic Association News

ANA Selects Bowers and Merena For Official Auctions in 2005 and 2006 (Colorado Springs, Colorado & Irvine, California) — Bowers and Merena Auctions will be the official auctioneer for two upcoming American Numismatic Association conventions.

Selected earlier this year as the official auctioneer for the ANA National Money Show™ in Kansas City, Missouri, April 8-10, 2005, the firm was also chosen by the ANA Board of Governors to handle the auction for the organization's World's Fair of Money® in Denver, August 16-20, 2006.

"ANA auctions have been eagerly supported by collectors and dealers over the years," said Christopher Cipoletti, ANA Executive Director. "With the help of auction companies like Bowers and Merena, we not only provide a marketplace service to buyers and sellers, but generate important funding to promote the hobby through educational outreach programs as well."

According to president, Steve Deeds, his firm realized nearly $12.8 million from nearly 5,300 lots during the 2003 ANA sale in Baltimore.

"Over the years, Bowers and Merena — a Spectrum Numismatics subsidiary of Greg Manning Auctions, Inc. — has handled hundreds of millions of dollars worth of coins for tens of thousands of consignors, including libraries, historical societies and government agencies, as well as consignments from individuals and estates," Deeds said.

"We will be actively seeking great coins for these auctions, beginning with the Kansas City sale," he said. "We're looking for choice, rare and interesting United States coins in all series, from colonials to silver dollars and double eagles, certified or uncertified. We offer immediate cash payments or advances on auction consignments."

More information about consigning to either ANA auction is available by calling Bowers and Merena at (800) 458-4646, and ask for Steve Deeds or Reid Wolf.

DONOR PURCHASES JOHN FORD MATERIALS FOR ANA LIBRARY — His name — already synonymous with numismatic literature, research and education — is well-known throughout the American Numismatic Association and the numismatic community.

Dwight N. Manley, California-based sports agent, collector and numismatic hobby promoter, contributed $250,000 to the organization's expanded Library in October 2003 — the Library that now bears his name.

On June 1, 2004, that legacy was extended through the purchase and donation of nearly $30,000 in numismatic literature from the John Ford sale for the ANA Library's permanent Rarities Collection.

ANA Executive Director, Chris Cipoletti sees the donation as further evidence of Manley's intense dedication to the numismatic hobby. "We are fortunate and proud to have earned the respect and confidence of Dwight and Sahar Manley. Their notable, significant gifts to the Library have strengthened the Association. They are true representatives of the spirit of the ANA in its mission to educate and encourage the study and collection of money and related items."

Acquired with the help of ANA Governor Don Kagin who attended the June 1 John Ford Numismatic Auction on the Association's behalf, more than 24 lots were added to the library's collection at Manley's direction.

"It was a great opportunity," Kagin said. "At Dwight's request, we worked with librarian Nancy Green to develop a prioritized wish list of A, B and C materials — and were able to fill some existing holes in the collection."

Materials purchased included a number of sought-after 19th century auction catalogs. These publications often feature the handwritten names of purchasers and prices paid in the margins.

"Collectors like to know the provenance of their most valuable coins. These catalog listings often include notes on the names of purchasers," Green said, adding that many auction publications provide a wealth of research data.

In addition, the Library acquired a copy of one of the top works on Early American Cents, annotated by noted numismatist, Walter Breen.

"All the materials will be used for numismatic research by collectors at our facility," said Green, noting that all materials purchased at the Ford Auction will become a part of the ANA Library's collection — and may only be reviewed on the premises.

George Kolbe, compiler of the John Ford auction catalog, conducted the sale in conjunction with Stack's, generating more than $1 million in numismatic literature sales.

"When we were recognizing their generous donation to the Library last October, I mentioned to Dwight and Sahar about some of the wonderful materials coming up for bid from the John Ford Collection. They agreed that it was a great opportunity to acquire books out of circulation for 40 years," said Kagin.

Manley, who admits he bought the first and finest set of original The Numismatist magazines, also offered at the Ford Collection auction, finds his contributions to the ANA's Library personally satisfying.

"I think anything I give to the ANA is a great investment," he said. "The Library is important to me. I used it as a young numismatist during Summer Seminar and got lots of enjoyment out of learning there. I believe it should be a world-class resource to the members, and hope this is one step toward achieving that goal."

WHY SHOULD I JOIN THE PNNA?
(or, what has the PNNA done for me lately?)

You should join the PNNA so that you can support the following programs—
The PNNA—

- has distributed videotapes promoting coin collecting to libraries and schools throughout the region (hundreds of copies).
- sponsors state quarter design contests in 5th and 6th grade classrooms across the region.
- sponsors a table promoting numismatics at the Puyallup fair every fall—staffed 11-12 hours daily for 17 days (distributed over 1500 quarter-boards free to kids at the 2000 and 2001 fairs).
- has been sponsoring organization for ANA conventions in the region (1990 Seattle, 1998 Portland).
- rewards member clubs annually for the three best National Coin Week promotions.
- promotes competitive exhibiting at its own convention and at shows of member clubs.
- provides a full-ride scholarship to the American Numismatic Association's summer seminar for two deserving PNNA members each year.
- provides $200 for the annual convention best-of-show exhibit winner to take the exhibit to the ANA convention in the same year.
- provides a cash award for the person best promoting numismatics in the Pacific Northwest each year (the Bob Everett Memorial award).
- provides speakers for club meetings upon request.
- publishes a quarterly newsletter (The Nor'wester) with news of numismatic events in the region, including a listing of shows (your club's show is listed free of charge if you send us the details).
- maintains an informative web site with much of the above information on it—www.pnna.org

The PNNA is offering (two) full one session scholarships for an Adult and a YN (Young Numismatist) collector to attend the 2005 ANA Summer Seminar, held on the campus of The Colorado College in beautiful Colorado Springs, CO. Session I dates are Saturday, June 25, to Friday, July 1; session II, Saturday, July 2 to Friday, July 8, 2005. Summer Seminar is an opportunity for numismatic scholarship and camaraderie offering students a wide and varied selection of week-long courses suited for anyone from the curious beginner to the most advanced numismatist. The scholarship includes tuition for the class of your choice, a room in Loomis Dormitory (double occupancy) for six nights (Saturday to Friday), round-trip airfare, and all of your meals (approximate value of $1,000). Young Numismatists (YNs), ages 13 to 22 stay in a Colorado College dormitory with a group of experienced chaperons and mentors. Along with attending classes, YNs participate in a variety of special activities and events. The winner will be either an Adult or YN collector that is a member of the PNNA and completes this application (if you are not a current member of the PNNA – please submit $10.00 dues with the application ($5.00 YN dues). Deadline for receipt of applications will be March 15, 2005. Please submit completed applications to: PNNA Scholarship Program, c/o Scott Loos, P.O. Box 2210, North Bend, WA 98045. Summer Seminar class listings are available by contacting Scott Loos Phone: 425-831-8789 or Email: scottloos@msn.com.
