

Understanding Exonomia¹: A Workshop

with Independent Researchers, Collectors, and ANA Members, Kevin Akin, Margie Akin and James Bard

When: Saturday, November 2, 2019 | 9:00 am – Noon
Where: WILLAMETTE COIN CLUB/PNNA 15TH ANNUAL FALL CONVENTION (November 1-3, 2019) at the DoubleTree Lloyd Center Hotel, 1000 NE Multnomah Street, Portland, OR 97323.

Workshop Admission Cost: $20.00 for PNNA members, $30.00 for non-members, $10.00 for Young Numismatists (YN).

From beginners to experts, this workshop will increase your knowledge of all aspects of exonomia. Helpful handouts including bibliography of published and web-available resources to help identify, date, and attribute exonomia; a guide to finding and market-savvy purchasing; and instructions on how to research the origins and functions of your tokens. This workshop will be hands-on. Though it is impossible to bring examples of each-and-every kind of token, medal, ticket, store-card and the like, the presenters will bring (and give away examples) an interesting array of exonomia types, both common and rare. No prior knowledge of exonomia collecting is required. Bring an open mind and be ready to branch out into this interesting and rewarding subfield of numismatics.

¹ Exonomia are numismatic items (tokens, medals, or scrip) other than coins and paper money. It includes "Good For" tokens, badges, counterstamped coins, elongated coins, encased coins, souvenir medallions, tags, wooden nickels and similar items. It is related to numismatics (concerned with coins which have been legal tender), and many coin collectors are also exonomists (and don't know it 😊).
