January-February-March

President's Message by Tom Sheehan

We had our last board meeting at the Everett Coin Club show. Most of the board members were in attendance even though some had to come quite a distance. Their dedication is appreciated. We want to move around and be available to all the clubs in the Pacific Northwest so that all our members have the opportunity to participate. Our next board meeting will be in January at the Boeing Employees Coin Club show. All interested members are encouraged to attend, the meetings are always open.

Art Show — In addition to the regular business items we had a report from Helen Gundlach who is organizing an art show titled "Seeing Money." The event is designed to explore the role of art and money in our culture and will exhibit works from over 100 artists including JSG Boggs. After hearing her proposal and having the opportunity to ask several questions the board voted to participate by making a donation to support the event and also to participate by having our own display with representatives present during the show. The show will take place from May 6th to June 6th in Portland's Pearl District. It is expected that our participation will allow us to reach an audience of several thousand potential collectors and new PNNA members. We hope that those of you living in the greater Portland area and those visiting will be able to attend this unique art exhibit.

Numismatic Seminar — Another numismatic event to look forward to is a seminar titled "Art, the Art of Forgery and Coinage." This will be a hands on seminar at the University of Washington March 26, 27 and 28th. This event is sponsored by The American Numismatic Society and the University of Washington. It is expected that the attendance at this seminar will surpass the previous ones that I have helped organize since we will have more numismatist in attendance. From the American Numismatic Society we will have Ute Wartenberg, the new assistant director of the ANS, and John Kleeberg, Curator of Modern coins and Currency. From the American Numismatic Association, we will have Robert Hoge, Museum Curator and Brian Silliman, Chief Authenticator. Rounding out the seminar will be J. P. Martin, a professional numismatist since 1980 and currently the Senior Grader with the Independent Coin Grading Co. Mr. Martin has taught over 50 seminars on authentication and grading over the last 15 years. We may even have another expert attend which would give us a total of six instructors. The cost of the seminar will be $149.00. There will be a $50.00 discount for those who send in a $50.00 deposit before February 15th.

Coin Week — Coin Week is set aside by the American Numismatic Association as a way for us to reach out and show others what we do in this great hobby. Mark it on your calendar and put together a display for your local bank, library or post office. If we all had one small display just think of the impact we would have.

As you can see, in addition to coin shows we have other events that help promote our hobby. I expect that 1999 will be a great year for numismatics in the Pacific Northwest.

Directors Richard Billings, Del Cushing, Marge Farnam, Robert Hall, Paul Longier, Scott Loos, Alex Panheco, Larry Rowe, Robert Steinegger, and Bruce Wonder.

Dealer-Director to be appointed

1999 DUES ARE DUE

PNNA dues are assessed annually in January. Please send your dues to the secretary, Joe Boling, using the envelope enclosed. Individual dues are $5; family groups and clubs are $7.50. If you believe you are already paid for 1999, check the mailing label on this issue of The Nor'wester. Members not paid by convention time will not receive The Nor'wester after that date.

Thanks for Your Moo!

The PNNA table at the Puyallup Fair last September was again popular and fun. Thank you to all who assisted by providing exhibits, helping to install/remove exhibits, and by working at the table.

Lost and Found

Under the table at the Puyallup Fair, someone left two cartoon items based on the TV show "South Park," glass-faced in cardboard frames. One is a Charlie Brown-looking kid wearing a sweater with the name STAN on it; the other is a pair of rats talking about a robot-looking person tipped on his side, with a caption "I killed Kenny!" Will the owner please claim them from Joe Boling? If you do not recognize them, please ask at your clubs for someone who left them but who may not get the Nor'wester. (Then talk that person into paying $5 to join the association for 1999.)

The PNNA board has voted to continue the award program for club efforts to publicize National Coin Week. The NCW theme for 1999 is "Treasure from Change," and is intended to emphasize the changes in circulating coinage that will be obvious this year as the 50-states quarters start to be released.

The awards are $100-$75-$50 for the top three club efforts. The annual theme does not have to be part of your effort; if you have an already-established program for promoting coin collecting in your community that does not refer directly to the annual NCW theme, it is still acceptable for consideration. Send a report of your club's efforts to Larry Rowe at PO Box 61621, Vancouver, WA 98666 not later than 31 May.

Bob Everett Memorial Award

It's time for the committee to select a recipient for the Bob Everett award, to be announced (and hopefully presented, if the awardee is present) at the 1999 convention. The recipient need not be a PNNA member; s/he need only be someone who has promoted numismatics in the Pacific Northwest during 1998. Please send your nominations (name and achievements that merit receipt of this award) to one of the committee members: Tom Sheehan, Joe Boling, Bill McKivor, or Ken Hill.

Calgary Numismatic Society Collectibles

The CNS has published a paper (serially over six issues of their newsletter) cataloging the numismatic collectibles that the CNS has emitted since 1961. Joe Boling compiled the installments as they were published and has them available for anyone interested. Send US $1.20 to cover copying and postage (the paper is twelve pages long), or 65¢ for copying alone if you are close enough to receive hand-delivery.

Understand that since this will be a second generation copy of a paper originally published xero graphically, some of the illustrations may not be very clear. Purists may want to write to the CNS directly to see if they have kept any offprints. Calgary Numismatic Society, Box 633, Calgary Alberta T2P 2J3 CANADA.

Attention Exhibitors

by Larry Rowe, Exhibit Chairman

By the time you receive this issue of The Nor'wester, the holiday season will be here. I hope that everyone has a Merry Christmas, and wish each of you a Happy New Year. The time for our annual PNNA convention is sneaking up on us. Once again, it will be held in Portland on Easter weekend, on Friday and Saturday only. Those of you who are exhibitors need to be thinking about building your exhibit for this year. It is not too early to start now. The deadline to submit your application is March 15th. The deadline to place exhibits will be 12:00 noon on Saturday of the convention. Exhibit winners will be announced at 4:00 pm. Remember, the rules were changed last year to be in line with those of ANA to help make exhibiting more uniform. Copies of the new rules are available from the Chief Judge, Mr. Joe Boling, P.O. Box 8099, Federal Way, WA 98003. Copies will also be available at the convention. An application form is included in this issue of The Nor'wester. Page one of the application is all that is required for exhibitors who are entering an exhibit for the first time, who are entering non-competitive exhibits, or who are re-entering an exhibit that did not place in its class. Exhibitors who will use a surrogate for set up or tear down, or who will enter an exhibit which had previously won a class award, should write (or e-mail) the Chief Judge for additional pages to the application form. Applications should be mailed to the Exhibit Chairman, Larry Rowe, P.O. Box 61621, Vancouver, WA 98666. Looking forward to many fine exhibits!

Donations Requested for Seminar

Tom Sheehan would appreciate it if you could donate airline mileage to help bring the people in to put on the numismatic seminar in March (see page 1). Tom also solicits hosts who can provide lodging for the lecturers during the seminar. Anyone who has excess miles or a home with extra room should contact Tom at 206-546-5599, e-mail twsheeh@ibm.net.

PNNA Speakers List

- Bruce Wonder — Will travel up to 50 miles and speak about: 1) World Coins, 1500-1918; 2) World Tokens and Medals; 3) Numismatic Reference Books.
- Joe Boling — Will travel up to 50 miles and speak about: 1) Japanese numismatics; 2) Seattle national banknotes; 3) Exhibiting/judging.
- Alex Pancheco — Will travel up to 30 miles and maybe more to speak about: 1) Tokens, Medals, World's Fair exonomia; 2) Russian and Siberian copper coinage; 3) U.S. Barber Coins.
- Paul Longcrier — Will travel up to 50 miles to speak about: 1) U.S. 20th Century coinage; 2) Early British milled Queen Anne coins; 3) Colonial numismatics.
- Tom Sheehan (206-546-5599) — Will travel 50 miles and perhaps more to speak on: 1) Panic scrip of 1907; 2) Numismatic Literature; 3) Numismatic collecting in general and the ANA.

The above listed people can be contacted directly or through the PNNA Secretary.

Are You On E-Mail?

PNNA is thinking about sending aperiodic news messages to the membership electronically (in addition to The Nor'wester). If you have access to email and would like to receive such messages, please send your email address to the secretary (joeboling@aol.com).

From Lewis and Clark to the Mini Dollar by Thomas LaMarre

Her name meant "Bird Woman." And if Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin and an advisory committee have their way, her image will take flight on a new dollar coin in the year 2000.

Sacajawea was a Shoshone Indian woman who accompanied the Lewis and Clark expedition. Often she's been portrayed as the heroic guide. But her real contributions may have been much more limited. Sacajawea joined the expedition in present-day North Dakota. She obtained horses for the explorers and served as an interpreter. Some historians say she also was a key aide to Lewis and Clark.

Army officers Meriwether Lewis and William Clark led the government-sponsored expedition into what is now the Northwestern United States. They set out from St. Louis in May 1804 and returned in September 1806 with maps and valuable information. The expedition eventually enabled the United States to claim the Oregon region.

The Journals of Lewis and Clark contain many references to Sacajawea, or "Janey" as Clark called her. If her portrait turns up on the new dollar coin, it won't be the only collectible with ties to the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Earlier this century, a "two-headed" gold dollar promoted the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition. One side pictured Meriwether Lewis, and the other William Clark. The Exposition took place in Portland, Oregon. It publicized industrial life in the Northwest and Alaska with exhibits of gold mining, salmon fisheries and lumbering. Sales of Lewis and Clark gold dollars financed a bronze statue of Sacajawea.

Portraits of Lewis and Clark also appeared on $10 bills in the early 1900s. But the explorers had to play second fiddle to a larger illustration of a bison named "Pablo"-a resident of the National Zoo.

Minutes of PNNA board meeting — 21 November 1998, Everett, WA

The meeting was called to order by President Tom Sheehan at 5:39 PM. Present were vice presidents Larry Gaye and Bill McKivor, secretary/treasurer Joe Boling, past president Eric Holcomb, directors Richard Billings, Del Cushing, Scott Loos, Larry Rowe, and Bruce Wonder, members Ellis Corets and Allen Nystrom, and guest Helen Gundlach.

Moved (Rowe) and seconded (McKiver) to approve the minutes of the 19 July board meeting as published. Passed.

The open position of dealer-director was discussed. The dealer whom Tom Sheehan approached declined to serve. Larry Rowe suggested Steve Estes and Larry Gaye suggested Tom Cederlind. Sheehan will continue recruiting.

On the subject of attracting members [current membership is 226, including family members] the following suggestions were made:

- Gaye — sponsor quarterly educational symposia.
- Cushing — we have lots of programs that can be given (both PNNA slide sets and qualified speakers among the member ship).
- Gaye — we want to get more involvement at various levels, such as new sponsors for PNNA conventions; we need to get clubs to send members to a course on conducting conventions.
- Sheehan — the upcoming ANS seminar is a way to get lots of collectors involved.
- Wonder — membership is so inexpensive that some may not feel like bothering with sending in a $5 check; we ought to introduce some larger increments so that with a $20-25 payment a collector could be signed on for several years. Could we use technology (the web) to get closer to members more often, such as periodic email news? It would give us more visibility at a low price.
- Gaye — that's a way to let more people know what programs are available.
- Sheehan — I have been in contact with the Northshore [senior] Service Center in Bothell; they are interested in having numismatic programs. They just needed to be contacted. We could send publicity about our offerings to places like that that are susceptible.
- Cushing — getting grandparents involved might bring in some grandchildren.
- Sheehan — I have a list of senior centers that we can contact.
- Corets — before getting a substantial number of new members in the PNNA, we're going to have to get them into local clubs; that's where they get their initial interest in collecting reinforced. Then consider offering programs to local clubs that pitch the PNNA's programs and accomplishments, as a means of recruiting members into the PNNA, similar to the ones we gave on exhibiting.
- Gaye — do we have a speaker list? Sheehan — I have been compiling one, but did not bring it to the meeting.
- McKivor — I got into the PNNA for the educational aspects, and that is why I ran for VP. We need to emphasize that.
- Sheehan — do we want to form a committee to develop suggestions for education that can be put into place immediately?
 - ⇒ McKivor — we should send a letter to clubs telling them what services are available.
 - ⇒ Gaye — put that information on the PNNA web page.
 - ⇒ Loos — wants to join the committee.

Boling rendered a report on the PNNA's successful Puyallup fair table.

Helen Gundlach presented her proposal for "Seeing Money: A Unique Art Event of Uncommon Currency," scheduled for 6 May – 6 June 1999 in the Portland Opera rehearsal space in Portland's Pearl District. The show was delayed from December 1998 in order to raise more money from sponsors. The object of the event is to raise viewers' consciousness of money and how it is used. Up to six charities will be beneficiaries of the gallery fees that normally go to the promoter (which is why sponsorship is being sought, so that costs of the event do not need to be paid by the promoter). To date two beneficiaries have been selected: the Portland Old Town Arts and Culture Foundation (the principal Portland arts organization sponsoring "Seeing Money") and the Libri Foundation (a distributor of children's books to rural libraries). Ms. Gundlach is looking for donations of $500-1000 from non-profit organizations that want to have a formal presence at the event (vs. $3500-$15000 from corporate sponsors). In response to how money exhibits would be shown, she said that there will be very little table-top space — traditional vertical display will be the standard method (although the space will be laid out in a non-traditional manner). She wants us involved because of our obvious connection with money. A blatant quid pro quo of a financial donation from us to the project in exchange for which we are allowed to place (and possibly staff) an exhibit of our own, is not what she has in mind. She wants us to be involved in the philosophy and purpose of the event. Wonder — might we be able to sell inexpensive numismatic items (such as ancient coins) that would invoke an interest in viewers by exposing them to new aspects of money? Gundlach — probably not; I want to avoid the museum store look. The show will be open five days/week, about six hours a day (Wed-Sun, late on Friday). Wonder — nevertheless, I think this is an exciting project that we should support and participate in. Sheehan — what are we willing to spend, both in money and man hours? Gaye — Larry Rowe and I will start a committee in the Portland area to plan our participation, tying it to the educational aspects of the exhibit [he read a list of many advantages to being involved in this project]. Moved (Gaye) and seconded (Wonder) to donate $1000 and a suitable exhibit to "Seeing Money." Passed. Moved (Cushing) and seconded (Gaye) to spend up to $750 in preparing the exhibit and whatever handout materials we will distribute. Failed. Moved (Holcomb) and seconded (McKivior) to spend up to $500 for those purposes. Passed. The board decided without vote to pay the $1000 donation when our exhibit proposal is accepted. Rowe — is there any objection to our publicizing our involvement in this project nationwide? Gundlach — I have engaged Syntax, an experienced arts publicist, to handle this. Please provide us a list of your media outlets and they will prepare the publicity.

Bob Everett award nominees — publish a call for nominations in The Nor'wester. Remember that the nominees can be anyone who has promoted numismatics in the region, not necessarily a member of the PNNA or of any organized club, particularly those who have displayed an ethical approach. Deadline for nominations will be 1 March.

Moved (Cushing) and seconded (Loos) to continue the PNNA's award program for member club activities promoting National Coin Week. Passed. [The theme for 1999 is "Treasures in change" and the state commemorative quarter-dollar releases will be emphasized in the publicity.]

Moved (Holcomb) and seconded (Cushing) to donate $25 to the ANA as a sponsor of the Sacramento National Money Show. Passed. Moved (Gaye) and seconded (Loos) to donate $25 to the ANA as a sponsor of the Chicago World's Fair of Money. Passed.

Moved (Cushing) and seconded (Billings) to procure 1000 woods for the 1999 PNNA convention in Portland. Passed. Boling asked Larry Gaye to get any desired changes in the text/design to him quickly so Boling can order the woods.

Moved (Rowe) and seconded (Loos) to reimburse Eric Holcomb up to $30 for software that he needs to move web page contents to the ANA. Passed.

Holcomb announced that the deadline for the next Nor'wester will be 10 December.

The meeting adjourned at 7:13 PM.

American Numismatic Association News

www.money.org

ANA President Represents Collectors at First Strike Ceremony — Anthony Swiatek, president of the ANA, represented the nation's coin collectors at the first strike ceremonies in Philadelphia for the first new quarter in the 50 States Commemorative Coin Program. "Money is history you can hold in your hands," Swiatek said. "These beautiful new coins symbolize the history and geography of this nation in a way that has never been done." The country's top authority and the author of several books and numerous articles on the subject, Swiatek is widely known among coin collectors as "Mr. Commemorative."

"Ever since it was announced, I have said that all of the numismatic organizations combined could not give the shot in the arm to the hobby that this program will," Swiatek said. "Although our last circulating commemorate coins were made nearly a quarter century ago for the 1976 Bicentennial, these new quarters continue a 106-year tradition of commemorative U.S. coins that started with the 1892 half dollars honoring the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago."

Earn Ancient Coins in the Roman Coin Project — ANA members can receive free Roman, Byzantine and Greek coins just by being involved in numismatics. A total of 10 ancient coins — five Roman, four Byzantine and one Greek — plus several special bonuses are available through the Roman Coin Project (RCP). Originated and administered by David R. Cervin since 1974 to encourage the study of ancient coins, the RCP is designed for all members of the ANA, whether they are juniors or seniors, beginners or more advanced collectors. The program is free to junior ANA members; a one-time $12 registration fee is required of adult participants.

Accomplishments that earn ancient coins range from preparing an exhibit for display at a school, bank, public library, coin club meeting or coin show to publishing a numismatic article in any publication, including your local club bulletin, regional journal or national magazine. Juniors receive an ancient coin for earning a Scout merit badge; adults are rewarded for helping juniors earn their badges. Recruiting a new ANA member is required for one coin award; another stipulates that members complete the ANA's Introduction to Numismatics correspondence course.

To learn more about the Roman Coin Project and to receive a Roman Coin Request Form, write to David R. Cervin, 6201 Adirondack, Amarillo, TX 79106; or contact the ANA Education Department, 818 North Cascade Avenue, Colorado Springs, CO 80903-3279.

ANA Library Makes Improvements — The ANA Library, the world's largest circulating library of numismatic material, is making improvements to restore and preserve its holdings. "When I was appointed Librarian last March, I recognized that the Library faced some serious challenges in the coming years," Nawana Britenriker says. "However, utilizing the tools of technology, preservation, education and conservation, I feel confident that ANA's library is meeting the challenges inherent in preserving our unique collection for our members well into the 21st century."

For example, the ANA Library will be closed for the first two weeks of January to complete a hands-on inventory of each book in the library to produce an up-to-date, searchable digital catalog that also will be available on ANA's web site, Britenriker says. The books will be barcoded and assessed for current condition, as well as prioritized for preservation and conservation. Volunteers and available staff also are producing an online listing of the library's auction catalogs as they archive and prioritize those catalogs for digitization.

ANA Election Ballots to be Mailed — Ballots for the ANA election of officers will again be mailed to members next spring rather than bound in the ANA's monthly journal, The Numismatist, as was the procedure for the last two elections.

In 1999 the terms of all nine offices will expire. Those elected will be installed at the ANA's 108th Anniversary Convention in Chicago, August 11-15, 1999, and will compose the Board of Governors for the next two years."

1999 NCW Theme: "Treasures in Change" — The ANA plans to utilize the 50 States circulating commemorative quarter program in celebrating the 76th National Coin Week, April 18-24, 1999. "The launching of the commemorative quarter program by the United States Mint next year offers a wonderful opportunity to focus attention on Treasures in Change, the theme for the 1999 National Coin Week," says ANA Education Director Gail Baker Kraljevich. "National Coin Week offers a special time to educate the public about the hobby of numismatics, where everyone can hold history in their hands."

Beginning in January, the Mint will issue the first quarters with reverse designs commemorating each of the 50 states. Five different designs will be issued each year over the next decade, released in the order of each state's ratification of the Constitution or admission to the Union. Next year, quarter designs will commemorate Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia and Connecticut.
